National Sales Manager

A list (made up from the central Incnet database) of the most senior sales contact within an organization plus the most senior sales contact for a region or state. Multiple contacts are available where the sales function is organized by product market. They are extremely influential decision makers.

Over twenty industry codes and a growing selection of industry keywords allow the list user to efficiently zero in their industry target markets. Other selections, that are continually being enhanced, are: advertising expenditure, employee size, sales revenue, overseas or local ownership, private or public company
